Mr. Big Bird

Paternity Suit Filed Against Tweety Bird!

Court Declares Big Bird is entitled to share of father's nest egg.

Oakland (WHN) The World Headline News reports that a paternity suit has been filed by Mr. Big Bird, star of "Sesame Street" a PBS television show, against Mr. Tweety Bird, a Warner Brothers movie star.

When contacted directly, Tweety Bird would only state, "I thawt I thaw a putty lawyer. I only thaw that boids mother once, but I thawt she was a real cute chick(en)." Warner's Bothers has cried fowl, but has refused further comment on the matter since it is currently under litigation.

Big Bird has told the World Headline News that he has always used the last name "Bird" because "Mom always said I was entitled to it." Big Bird said he was only informed of who his actual father was as his mother lay dying. Big Bird states that she clucked out, "Tweety, Tweety Bird, is your real father! He flew south one winter and never came back..." Dr. Tyson (family physician) confirmed Big Birds story and clucked that, "even on her death nest, Ms. Bird was a plucky old hen. I hope they fry that Tweety..."

Seismologists Predict The "Big One" What can you do to be ready?

Always drink lots of water so that if a temporary break in water service occurs you are already well hydrated.

Eat lots of food and become fat; body fat can supplant grocery stores.

Move immediately on top of the fault line; you'll be the first to know about a quake and can be first in line for panic buying.

Substitute "Big Ones"; eat lots of high fat foods!

NIH Announces Increase In Funding

Scientists elated at news

Oakland (WHN) President Bill Clinton announced today that funding to the National Institutes of Health (NIH) would be increased.

The Clinton administration has reportedly identified unallocated monies from a previously secret Bush era White House account. According to reliable sources, the President found 7.19 dollars between the cushions of the Bush's sofa and has vowed to use this money to rebuild the infrastructure of the NIH.

Outgoing NIH Director Bernadette Healy said that the unexpected windfall would be wisely spent. Director Healy stated that the funds would be used to mail out her resume to top Republican presidential contenders and was also quoted as saying, "I'll be back.... Hasta la vista, baby!"

United Nations Observer Enters CHORI

Administrative Changes Come To CHORI

Chief Nut Optimistic for Future

Oakland (WHN) CHORI Director Bertram Lubin has survived an attempt by hardline elements to subvert and overthrow his administration. In scenes reminiscent of Moscow and Boris Yeltsin, mass protests by the citizens of CHORI forced the hardline elements to back down.

As a consequence of the popular uprising, several changes have been made within the leadership of CHORI. Most notable among these moves was the reassignment of Vice President Lucas to duties outside of CHORI.

Duties previously assigned to the Vice President are now being shared by the Secretary of the Treasury Ms. Kathleen Hogue Gonzalez and the new CHORI Lab Manager Ms. Julie Earnest.

Director Lubin is said to be optimistic about these changes and relieved that the coup failed.
